ATTORNEY

If you are looking for a place that serves the public interest by supporting employers who directly serve California communities, Liebert Cassidy Whitmore may be the place for you! LCW offers opportunities to work at a premiere law firm dedicated to serving mission driven organizations. Our firm is growing and positions are available in our Los Angeles, San Francisco, Fresno, Sacramento and San Diego offices. We are seeking well-qualified individuals to provide representation of labor, education and employment matters that offers a unique, dynamic and challenging opportunity. Candidates with strong communication, organization, collaboration and interpersonal skills along with creativity and significant litigation knowledge are encouraged to apply. Enjoy immediate responsibility, regular client contact and the chance to make a difference in a fast-paced and collegial environment. Specifically, we are seeking Attorneys in the following areas:

Senior Litigators in our San Francisco and Los Angeles Offices

Attorneys with 5+ years of litigation experience and 1st or 2nd chair trial experience, are encouraged to join our busy and growing litigation practice. We are a results-oriented and efficient team that defends our clients in federal and state court litigation. Our litigation practice has a long track record of success in employment law cases; we welcome candidates to become part of this impressive team.

Attorneys to support Private Education and Nonprofits

Individuals with a passion for the areas of private education and nonprofits will find that at LCW, we engage, advocate and provide legal advice to employers in all areas of labor and employment. Experience working with private schools and/or other non-profits in one or more areas, including employment, student, governance, and/or business and facilities issues is a plus.

Attorneys with Public Education expertise in Labor and Employment Matters

LCW is California's leading resource for legal counsel, education and representation for California's public education institutions, including K-12 schools, community colleges and public universities. Our Fresno, Sacramento and San Francisco offices are looking for attorneys to join our work with these educational institutions.

Labor and Employment Attorneys

We have opportunities in all offices for attorneys to work with a variety of clients that include public agencies (cities, counties and special districts), public and private education, and nonprofits across a diverse range of practice areas including litigation, wage and hour, labor relations, retirement & employee benefits, public safety, workplace investigations and business and facilities.

Why Join LCW?

- We offer career growth and development by investing in our employees and supporting their passion to work in the field of labor and employment law. Our internal training programs along with our mentoring program allows for personal and professional support with a track record for success.
- Our competitive compensation and benefit package along with our collaborative workplace culture makes working at our firm fun, engaging and fulfilling. We do not compete with each other, rather we cooperate and connect with our colleagues which serves to strategically support our clients.
- LCW is proud to have one of the most diverse attorney rosters in the State of California. Our commitment to diversity is reflected across our organization, from hiring in all areas of the firm to Partner promotion, and has been founded on decades of dedication to the principle of diversity, equity and inclusion.
